THE COLUMBIAN. BLOOMSBURG, PA.

THURSDAY, JULY 23, 1908

Entered at the Post Office, Bloomsburg, Pa., as second class matter, March 1, 1888.

A RARE OLD BOOK.

The Breches Bible.

A. B. Black recently purchased a copy of the "Geneva Bible" first published in that city in 1560, and first printed in the English language in 1576 and as late as 1640. This copy was printed in 1589 by the Deputies of Christopher Barker, Printer to the Queen's Majesty, in Black Letter. Not long before this Bible was printed in English, the translation and reading of the Bible in the common tongue was treated as "heresy and a crime punishable by fire." At the time when this Bible was printed it was no longer a forbidden book, and almost the only book within the reach of the common people, and this the Geneva, or "Breches Bible" was the one used in the devotional exercises at home. It receives its name "Breches Bible" from Genesis, third chapter, 7th verse, "Then the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked, and they sewed fig tree leaves together, and made themselves breches."

Shortly before this time and on through the reign of James the First a great moral wave, under the influence of the Bible, swept over the country, and a counsel of the most learned scholars of the day were appointed by King James to make a translation of the Bible, which was undertaken in 1604 and concluded in 1611. Our Bible is based upon the King James version. England at that time became the people of a book and that book was the Bible. The greatest authors and scholars the world has ever had lived then; they were great because they were saturated with Bible idioms, language and thought, and drank so deeply from the wells of Scripture that one may say, without any straining of the evidence, without the Bible these men could not have been. This is the rarest Bible that we have ever seen.

Steps on the Pavement.

Whether or not the town ordinance passed many years ago, giving to property owners the right to use four feet of the pavement "for such properly built steps as may be necessary to enter doors of dwellings and business places" is a valid ordinance, is a question that seems likely to get into court through the controversy now on between the town council and Messrs. Vander-slice & Eyerly, at the new Morning Press building now being erected. The Press people claim that a building permit was granted them under this ordinance, and the ordinance has not been repealed. To change the steps now would be very expensive, if not impossible. Many business places occupy more space with their steps than these.

The town council, at a meeting on Monday night, ordered the steps removed. No further action has yet been taken, but the Press owners declare that under the advice of their attorney they will not regard the notice, and the matter will probably get into court, if pressed.

Death of Bishop Potter.

Bishop Henry Codman Potter, of New York, one of the most eminent prelates in this country, died at his summer home in Coopers-town, Tuesday evening, after an illness of many weeks. His career was a remarkable one. He was a powerful influence in the Protestant Episcopal church; in reform movements in New York city, and in state and national questions. Many degrees were conferred upon him in recognition of his ability.

In his death his church has been deprived of one of its most able bishops.

He was the son of Bishop Alonso Potter, of Pennsylvania, and a nephew of Bishop Horatio Potter of New York.

Soon to Finish Bridge.

Before the end of this week should everything move along as smoothly as it has for the past few weeks, the last span of the Millinville bridge will be swung and persons can cross the new structure. So rapid has the work progressed that one of the spans was erected last week in forty-eight hours.

When the new bridge is completed it is the intention of the Millinville citizens to have a demonstration and the structure will be appropriately dedicated.

West Point Opens to Filipinos.

At the opening of the fall term of the United States Military Academy at West Point, one of the new cadets will be a young Filipino. He will be the first of his race to seek a commission in the United States army through the military academy. He will receive his commission in June, 1912.

William H. Taft, when secretary of war, was an enthusiastic advocate of the plan to educate bright young Filipinos at West Point, and the last congress added a clause to the military academy bill, providing for the admission of four deserving young Filipinos to the West Point corps of cadets.

In a few days questions to be used in the examination will be mailed to Manila. When the examinations are over Col. Scott, the superintendent of the military academy, will announce who the fortunate applicant is.

The roads were weary stretches of dust; the fields were dry, and the grain was parched; housewives were keeping their windows tightly closed to prevent the carpets being entirely buried beneath the flying dust; automobilists were cursing out the highways; only the street sprinkler man was happy. Now these were the conditions that existed previous to Tuesday night. And then came the rain—the first for days—and freshened things up. Everybody welcomed it, and felt better. And yet, not everybody, either—a pessimist who drove up from Danville yesterday morning was overheard to say some unpleasant things about the mud. Alas, man is a difficult animal to please.

An Immense Road Project.

Macadamized Highway from Binghamton to Baltimore Would Pass Through Bloomsburg.

A macadamized road, to be built by the State and to run all the way from Binghamton to Baltimore, passing through Bloomsburg on the way while following the winding course of the Susquehanna, is a dream of automobilists that at last is approaching realization. Automobilists of Wilkes-Barre and vicinity, stirred by the efforts to obtain good roads in all parts of the State and by the proposal of State Commissioner of Highways J. W. Hunter to have the county seat of each of the sixty-seven counties in the State connected by a State road, are proposing the building of a State road from the junction of the Susquehanna river and the northern border of the State and the junction of the river and southern border. The object, they say, is to make a good road between Binghamton and Baltimore, which shall on one side of it or the other follow the course of the Susquehanna river, passing through Bloomsburg. They have developed a great deal of enthusiasm about this proposed road, and it is not unlikely that active measures will be taken to bring the plan to the notice of the State Legislature at the next session.

Political Parties Remiss.

It has been discovered at the State capitol that the Prohibition and Socialist parties have failed to file their lists of presidential electors as required by law. Should they fail to do so soon they will not be represented on the ticket this fall.

A dangerous counterfeit $10 gold certificate, series 1907, check letter D, has been discovered. The number of the note is A1437936, and it is sufficiently well executed to make it dangerous among inexperienced handlers of money.
